LAND AND COURT RECORDS OF CHICAGO .-Next to the fearful loss of life and the terrible destruction of property, the questions which most concern the people of Chicago are those relating to the land and court records. On these points the Journal of the 11th, has the

the real estate, not only in Chicago, but in tently, it is sure to cure Cook county, with its numerous suburban towns. Fortunately the abstracts of titles, in the office of Shortall & Hoar, conveyancers, are known to be safe. There is great hope that when the vaults are opened at the other abstract offices, the record books which are intended to be perfect copies of every real estate transfer in the county are safe. There are several of them, and it would be strange if some of them, besides the one already examined, are not safe. A leading member of the Chicago bar gives it as his opinion that the title to all the property in the county can be re-established by means of these abstracts. The Legislature will probably pass some enabling act to cover the case. As to the value of real estate, it is now entirely indeterminate, because it is impossible to divine where the future business center will be. The latter will depend upon the location selected by the leading business houses which are already in consultation.

Lawyers.-As a specimen of what the legal profession of this city has lost, we may state that General H. N. Eldridge, of the firm of Eldridge & Tourtelotte, the attorneys for Field, Leiter & Co., lost all his papers, not a scrapleft, after having practiced law for fourteen years in Chicago. There is not a law office nor a law library left in Chicago, except the few small duplicate libraries at the residences of the leading lawyers. There is not a paper showing that there is a suit pending in any of the six courts of record in Cook county, including the courts of record in Cook county, including the Federal Court. There is not an indictment in existence in the county against any one, not a judgment, not a petition in bankruptcy in the indgment, not a petition in bankruptey in the Federal Courts. Even the duplicate files that the lawyers kept in their offices are all gone. I few may have escaped by being taken to the houses for Sunday or night work. We may promptly attended to. add that there are in Chicago about five hun-

Referring to the same subject, the Post says :- The fire seized the upper portion of the central part of the courthouse, and sent the great bell crashing down through the building to the place where the records were kept, and the mass of ruins thus created made it impossible to preserve the county records, upon which the establishment of proofs of ownership to real property depended.

A Scene in Chicago. - One of the most dramatic and impressive scenes of the fire not appearance. I had recourse to various proper yet recorded was the flight through the new tions, both in Europe and in this country; La Salle-street tunnel under the river during Sunday night. It was about 2 o'clock when this strange hegira began, and in ten minutes it became a furious rout. The bridges on both Discovery the best preparation I know of. sides were on fire, and the flames were writhing over the decks of the brigs the river, and winding their fierce arms of flame around the masts and through the rigging like a monstrous, luminous devil-fish. The awful canopy of fire drew down and closed over Water street as the shricking multitude rushed for the tunnel, the only avenue of escape. The gas works had already blown up, and there was no light in any house save the illumination, which prise that the demand for NATTANS' CRYS lighted up only to destroy. But into the darkened cave rushed pell-mell, from all directions, harmless, and yet accomplish all, and more, than the frenzied crowd-bankers, thieves, dray- the poisonous articles claim to do, should have men, wives, children-in every stage of un-increased so rapidly. It restores the color and dress, as they had leaped from burning lodgings, a howling, imploring, cursing, praying, waiting mob, making their desperate dive under the river. It was as dark in the tunnel as der the river. It was as dark in the tunnel as it is in the centre of the earth, perhaps darker. Hundreds of the fugitives were laden most economical preparation in use. Put up in it is in the centre of the earth, perhaps darkwith furniture, household goods, utensils, large bottles, at one dollar.

ARTHUR NATTANS, loaves of bread, and pieces of meat, and their rush through the almost suffocating tunnel was fearful in the extreme. They knocked each other down, and the strong trod on the helpless. Nothing was heard at the mouth of the cavernous prison but a muffled howl of rage and anguish. Several came forth with broken limbs and terrible bruises, as they scattered and resumed their flight under the blazing sky to the northward. - Letter in N. Y.

FIRE PROOF VAULTS .- Considerable anxiety is being felt in all commercial communities to know how far the fire proof vaults and safes in Direction Labels, &c., &c. the Chicago business houses and banks have withstood the great heat to which they have been subjected for the past few days. It is said that in many instances the heat was so intense that brick and stone seemed absolutely to melt in the white heat. Scientific mechanics contend that a vault or safe creeted inside of a building where they are certain to be surrounded with flames and heat seldom preserve their contents, and that to render the contents of a safe or vault perfectly secure the receptacle should be placed under the sidewalk, where it will be surrounded with dirt on the top, bottom hereby notified to present them to ANDREW JAMIESON, and three of its sides, and protected on the side of the building by a separate wall of its own, outside of the foundation wall of the building, the entrance to be guarded by double iron doors, with an air space between them. Such a vault is really fireproof. In case of fire it may be | facture. stored full of valuable goods from the building. The falling walls and debris will only help to protect it; whereas a vault within and under a building may make destruction surer by inviting the deposit of books and valuables, with a they will be sold very low for mo false promise of security, only to restore them in the form of ashes.

DEATH OF AN AGED COUPLE,-Mr. Wm. Bandel and his wife, Mrs. Mary Bandel, both died yesterday within seven hours of each other, at the residence of their son, Mr. S. L. Ban-del, No. 267 North Broadway. Mr. Bandel was in his 55th year and his wife in her S4th, and they had been married 67 years. The wife had been quite active until within the past few days, and died at 10 a. m. yesterday rather quality; prices low, at suddenly. Mr. Bandel had kept his usual good health until Saturday night, when he was suddenly attacked with paralysis, and died at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, seven hours after the death of his wife; - Bait.
